The Lost Time [Due to this new normal]

Introduction: On March 11, 2020, the World Health Organization declared that COVID-19 was a global pandemic. Isolation, contact restrictions, and economic shutdown impose a complete change to the psychosocial environment in affected countries. These measures have the potential to threaten the mental health of children and adolescents significantly.

Background: During the pandemic, stressors such as social distancing, reorganization of family life, school and businesses, fear of COVID-19 infections, and possibly loss of family members/friends led us to lose things that were supposed to be cherished. Some parents might have lost their jobs or businesses. For children and adolescents, the pressure from the school to catch up for the time is lost. Senior students didn't get to live their final years of school and college which everyone had to live at that moment because that will never come back. Many ambitious graduates have lost their curiosity about their future plans and have stopped working towards them. Students who have graduated from school and colleges during the COVID era have been labeled as "COVID batch" and they're losing amazing opportunities because of that. Some use COVID as an excuse to escape from their

Report of the Event:

The annual Founder's day Essay and Elocution Competition was conducted on22.10.2021. The theme for the Elocution was "Shri V.L. Ethiraj as a crusader of Women's Empowerment" and the topic for the Essay writing was "Good Education is an integral part of Empowering Women". The event is conducted every year to create awareness among students of the college about the founder Shri. V.L. Ethiraj's vision as an educationist and philanthropist. Each year, all the students, especially the first year undergraduates are encouraged to participate in it, in order for them to understand the greatness of the institution's founder. Dr. JhoneVirjula, Head, department of Physics, judged the event and shared her valuable feedback with the students. She insisted that the students must make an effort to follow the path of the founder. Many students, especially I year UG students actively participated in the competition. Snehalatha V of II B.Com won the Elocution contest and Janet Christy of II UG English won the essay competition.

Report of the Event

On 28th April 2022, Ms. Nithya, a 2012 batch alumna who is presently working as newsreader in Sun TV, was invited to the department of English to have an interactive session with students. Since the Undergraduatestudents study journalism as a part of the subject, the session helped them in honing their skills in Newsreading and News Reporting. She expressed her ideas and delineated the skills required for becoming a successful journalist. She also spoke about the opportunities and challenges in the field. Her speech was well received by the students who had their queries clarified gracefully by the guest. On the whole, it was an informative, enriching and equally interesting session.

Ms. Nithya expressed her earnest gratitude to her teachers of the department who played a mighty role in her success. The teachers on their part were proud to see their student, now confident and bold enough to face challenges on her own.

Report the Event:

The PG students of the department of English were delighted to learn and gain knowledge from a distinguished professor Dr. K. S. Antony Samy, Associate Professor and Head, PG and Research Department of English, Loyola College, Chennai who was the resource person for the workshop on "ELT: An Overview" that was organized on 7th June 2022. Dr. Antony Samy is well known in the academic circle for his unique teaching skills and proved his eminence with his resourceful presentation that made students think beyond the textbooks and classroom. He began with the fundamentals of ELT like nature of learning, methods and approaches, styles and strategies, TELL and Psychology of learners. He also gave a gist of terms important in ELT and ended with an activity on preparing an on-the-spot speech to enhance communicative competence. It thus turned out to be a highly successful workshop that left a lasting impact on the minds of students.
